District Governor
Officers

The weekly meeting of the Redwood City Exchange Club this week was devoted to the installation of officers of the club who will hold office during the coming year. The installation of the officers was made by Clark Congdon of Palo Alto, district governor of the Fifth Exchange district.

Wilbur Dossie is the new president of the club, following Kendall Towne. The others installed Tuesday night were Jack Fox, 1st vice-president; Colin Stokes, 2nd vice-president; Guy Kennedy, 3rd vice-president; Francis Timney, financial secretary; Lindsey Gray, recording secretary; Emil Hendrickson, treasurer; Harry Hallett, sergeant-at-arms.

The new president was presented with a beautiful flag, the gift of the four past-presidents of the club, C. D. Hall, Frank Griffin, W. B. Langston and Kendall Towne. The latter, as retiring president, was presented with an elegantly executed emblem of the club engraved with the names of all the members. This was the work of Colin Stokes and was presented by him to the retiring president.

Odd Will Causes Tangle in Estate

When Thomas A. Kelly, Pescadero pioneer, died leaving a will that provided that two pieces should shake dice for the possession of a valuable diamond ring, he did not know how many complications would result from his bequest.

The pieces were both residents of Chicago, but before the required dice shaking could be accomplished, one of the nieces, Hazel Parker Sterling, died. Attorneys for the other niece claim that as one of the two claimants to the ring was dead, that the ring should belong to the other.

On Friday, however, the will of Miss Sterling was filed for probate in the Superior Court by Public Administrator J. C. McGovern. Attorneys for Miss Sterling's heirs claim that the right to shake dice for the ring was properly a part of her estate and her heirs have inherited this right. The will bequeaths $600 in bonds and the half title to the ring to the mother of Miss Sterling, Mrs. Elizabeth A. Sterling.

De Alton Wentworth has returned to Stockton to resume his duties with the Blair Tree Surgery Company. He spent the Christmas holidays with his father, Mr. Frank Wentworth and family.

Stranded Boat Thought Runner For Smugglers

The motorship Mianus, stranded on the sand at Halfmoon Bay has been confiscated by the Coast Guard, who claim that the Mianus was engaged in liquor running and not in coastwise fishing as she was chartered to do. The Mianus was driven ashore in the storm Sunday. It is charged that she was cleared from Mazatlan, Mexico, with a cargo of liquor, supposedly for Vancouver, B. C. The Mianus was registered under the name of William Sylvia, 111 Mission street, San Francisco.

War Veterans Choose Name For Building

U. S. Veterans' Bldg.
Adopted As Name

At a special meeting of the building committee Tuesday evening the name of the U. S. Veterans' building was selected for the building devoted to the use of veteran's organizations. Three veterans' organizations were represented at this meeting as follows: Veterans of Foreign Wars, Commander Mervyn R. Longacker, Commander-elect J. A. Haugeberg, Eugene Hill and Herbert McGuire; American Legion, Commander Thomas Vernall, Emmett Donnelly, James Debedetti; Spanish War Veterans, Commander J. Cashman, Commander-elect Bundage and Comrade Dell. It was moved and seconded that the building be called War Memorial Building. When put to a vote this lost by 7 votes against 2 votes. Commander Cashman then moved that the building be called U. S. Veterans Building. This was put to a vote and the result was 8 votes for and 1 vote against. This carried the motion and the name U. S. Veterans' Building was adopted.

Prisoners Break Pescadero Jail; Secure Freedom

By Cutting A Hole
Through Wall Two Escape

"Stone walls do not a prison make,
Nor iron bars a cage."

Thus found Constable Moore of Pescadero Wednesday morning when he went to Pescadero's "portable" jail to take breakfast to two prisoners whom he had locked in there the night before. The two had gone.

On Tuesday Constable Moore had arrested J. A. Russell, 32, and Kenneth Bartlett, 16, in the home of Maurice McBride, near Pescadero. He took the two to the jail charged with burglary.

An inspection of the jail the next morning revealed that an exit had been made by cutting out a section of the wall of the log cubical used as a jail in Pescadero. The hole had been cut by a drill, which Moore believes one of the men to have had concealed in his boot. Moore notified the sheriff's office in this and adjoining counties, giving a description of the two men.

A check of the McBride home failed to show anything missing as a jail in Pescadero. The hole had been cut by a drill, which Moore believes one of the men to have had concealed in his boot. Moore notified the sheriff's office in this and adjoining counties, giving a description of the two men.

JOS. B. HOLLINSEAD TAKEN BY DEATH

Mr. Hollinsead was a member of a San Mateo party that went to Alaska during the Klondike strike in the late nineties. Others in the party were Supervisor John W. Poole and Edward Cullen. The latter died suddenly shortly after the arrival of the party in the frozen north, his death being attributed to heart trouble brought on from excitement while hunting moose.

Site Sought For Yacht Harbor

Location Near Here
Needed For Craft
On Bay

Considerable activity about Redwood harbor is to be seen these days with groups of sportsmen, headed by S. H. Iderton and Dr. Francis J. Gruss scanning the waterfront area for a desirable site to locate the new Peninsula Yacht Club whose home port will be at this city.

A location adjacent to the berthing space Redwood is to provide for pleasure craft has been tentatively selected by the yachtmen, all subject to a favorable lease with the officials of the city.

The Peninsula Yacht Club will be affiliated with the Pacific Coast Yachting Association according to plans, and will be open to the public for membership.

For some time Dr. Gruss, owner of two fine motor boats and for many years a resident of Redwood, has been endeavoring to have the city provide a suitable place to berth craft of pleasure type. He was joined in his efforts by Mr. Iderton, who recently became a local resident. Mr. Iderton has spent many years upon salt water in commercial and pleasure boat circles. He is considered an authority on travel, formerly having been the foreign travel director of a large company operating all over the world. To encourage water activities he has been selected as the representative in San Mateo and Santa Clara counties for a concern whose pleasure craft are to be found in boating circles in practically every country in Europe, South Africa, South and Central America, the Orient and the Antipodes, as well as throughout the United States.

Iderton has occasionally entertained friends who are boating enthusiasts from other cities, and upon being shown Redwood harbor have unanimously expressed themselves as seeing the possibilities for the finest man-made yacht basin on the Pacific Coast. Many of the local people are not aware of the recent dredging done, but shortly when the yacht club buildings are erected no more pleasant hours can be spent than motoring to the waterfront to enjoy the activity that is bound to be present.

Boy Scout Troops Report Activities

Boy Scout troops in all sections of the county are closing the season of 1929 with the greatest advance in the history of the local organization in San Mateo county, according to the reports submitted by the Scoutmasters to the field executive, Edward A. Barrer for transmission to the national headquarters.

Activities Reported by Redwood City Troop 143—John Rhoda, scoutmaster. To stimulate a greater degree of activity in the troop a Sea Scout Unit was organized last year in the troop. The Sea Scout program has made a great appeal to the older boys. A twenty-four foot whaler has been secured for the Sea Scout unit by the executive board of the San Mateo district. Additional Sea Scout equipment will be added shortly. A worthwhile program will be the object of the year 1930. The troop has fifty scouts on its roster, and closed its 1929 year with eighty-nine merit badges to its credit. In addition to the various advancement within the troop, day and overnight hikes were taken during the past year. All indications point to a banner year.

Troop 101—Eleven merit badges were taken during the year of 1929. Four scouts attended summer camp. Plans are formulated for re-organization of the troop.

Troop 105—Scoutmaster Frank Thompson. Twenty-six scouts are enrolled in the troop. During the coming year special emphasis will be put on patrol work and development of junior leadership.

Mr. Howard Warner left on Wednesday on a week's business trip in different parts of the state.

Redwood City Aerle, No. 418, Fraternal Order of Eagles, will hold a card party in the Odd Fellows Hall this (Friday) evening. The admission is 25 cents. A. J. Richstatter is chairman of the committee in charge.

Sequoia Theatre Ends First Year In New Building

Manager Kane Given
Congratulations By Friends

During the week the Sequoia theatre in this city has been celebrating the first anniversary of the opening of the new theatre, which opened on January 5, 1929. The theatre is one of the well-known Arkush circuit, consisting of houses in San Mateo, Burlingame, San Mateo, Redwood City, and two in Palo Alto.

The theatre here, though by no means the largest theatre in California, is regarded as one of the finest examples of modern theatre construction. It is complete in every detail.

Work on the theatre was begun a year ago last March. The structure was erected by Hare, Brewer and Clark, the plans being drawn by Reid Bros. of San Francisco. The plans for the theatre were prepared under the direct supervision of Ellis J. Arkush, proprietor of the peninsula chain of theatres. Prior to designing this house, Arkush spent several months in Europe studying theatre construction there and obtaining new ideas, which have been incorporated in the new building here.

The Sequoia Theatre has a seating capacity of 1500 and represents an expenditure of more than $190,000. It supercedes the old Sequoia theatre, which for 14 years was operated by the Arkush Entertainment Company.

The manager of the local show house is Thomas Kane, formerly manager of the San Mateo theatre in San Mateo, another of the Arkush theatres. Kane took over the management of the local house early in May of last year, succeeding Otway J. Cosgrave, who was in charge of the old theatre for two years and who opened the new house. Kane has been with the Arkush circuit for about five years, having been in charge of the San Mateo theatre for four years before assuming the management of the Sequoia theatre.

As manager of the theatre here, Kane has proved himself very popular and is providing the public with the latest and most attractive pictures of the talking screen.

C. of C. Elects New Directors

At the annual meeting of the Redwood City Chamber of Commerce held Wednesday evening at the Sequoia hotel, a new board of directors was elected to serve during the coming year. The members of the new board are: Philip Seagrave, Henry Witte, D. R. Stafford, Carl Wagner, D. W. Williams and Asa Hull.

Carl Wagner, the president of the organization, gave a resume of the work of the chamber of commerce during the past year, and a financial statement was presented by E. B. Hinman, the secretary-manager.

At the suggestion of Edward Harrison, the vice-president, Carl Stoner put a motion before the members that a vote of thanks be given to the president and secretary for the work done in 1929. This was unanimously carried.

As part of the chamber's work for the coming year, Gordon Seely suggested that the question of merchant's licenses be again taken up, and John Layng suggested that the chamber agitate the beautification of the residential section west of the highway.

The Redwood City Woman's Club will give a dinner for members and their husbands at the club house on Clinton street next Saturday evening. This is an annual event. A social hour and cards will follow the dinner. Reservations are to be made with Mrs. E. L. Kilbourne, phone Redwood 643.

Bids Submitted For Paving Bayshore

Lowest Bid Received
From Oakland
Firm

Bids for the construction of the 73 mile stretch of the Bayshore highway between San Mateo and Redwood City were opened by the State Highway Commission in Sacramento Wednesday. Frederickson and Watson and Frederickson Bros. of Oakland were the lowest bidders, their figures being $406,146 or $133,255 lower than the highest bid submitted that of C. D. Johnson of San Francisco. It is expected that the contract for this important roadway, the completion of which has been eagerly awaited by the people of Redwood City and the western section of the peninsula, will be awarded next week, which will mean that the work will start very soon.

Death Car Driver Wanted As Robber

Fred Mathieson and his wife, whose car it was which struck and fatally injured Frank Boren, school superintendent of San Mateo, are being sought by police in connection with the robbery of a bank in the Middle West. According to a circular received by Chief of Police Thomas Burke of San Mateo, Mathieson is identified as the person who held up the bank, and the supposed Mrs. Mathieson is identified as Mildred Cosier, an accomplice.

Mathieson and the woman who claimed to be his wife were in the car which struck the Boren machine, and were questioned by police at the time. They were at that time registered at a highway auto camp. Their car carried an Iowa license. Nothing at the time, however, led the police to suspect that the pair was wanted for robbery. The circular describing the wanted persons arrived about two weeks later.

Dillard and Lutje Named Captains of Two Sequoia Squads

By Ray Dixon
Dud Dillard and Clyde Lutje were elected to the captaincy positions of the two heavyweight Sequoia basketball squads at an election held at their regular practice Monday afternoon.

Dillard has been one of the bright lights of the 130's team during the practice session and has shown more improvement than any other member this year. Although not a regular starter at the opening of the season he has shown his ability to use the player control method in several pre-league battles.

Lutje is a seasoned veteran of the court and he has led his squad in shooting for many of the passed games. He is as good as an aggressive and a defensive player and he can work either as a forward man or at one of the guard posts if necessary. Lutje was at the helm when the heavy Cherokees took a close win from a San Francisco team several weeks ago. With three year book knowledge to rest on he should prove a valuable man especially when it comes to the use of the Rogers system.

Both boys will have a chance to show their ability as a leader tonight when they meet the San Jose fives in the opening of the P. A. L. race.

Salts Fine for Aching Kidneys

When Back Hurts Flush Your Kidneys as You Clean Your Bowels

Most folks forget that the kidneys, like the bowels, sometimes get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally, else we have backache and dull misery in the kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorders. You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean and the moment you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region begin drinking lots of water. Also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is intended to flush clogged kidneys and help stimulate them to activity. It also helps neutralize the acids in the urine so they no longer irritate, thus helping to relieve bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithia water drink which everybody should take now and then to help keep their kidneys clean.

A well-known local druggist says he sells lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in trying to correct kidney trouble while it is only trouble.

La Politesse
Martin Beck, the New York theater magnate, said on his return from Europe: "Prosperity is turning France's head. The French used to be the politest people, now they're the rudest, the most overbearing."

"An American woman in Paris told a French butcher to cut her off two pounds of beef for a stew."

"He threw a lot of bones and scraps on the scales."

"Say, look here," the American woman protested, "you're giving me about a pound of bone."

"No, I ain't," said the butcher. "You're paying for it."

AFTER OPERATIONS

"I was three times under an operation and I was very weak and nervous and could not eat. I suffered for ten years. I learned about Lydia E. Now I feel strong and can do anything."—Mrs. A. Michale, 5443 Mitchell Ave., Detroit, Michigan.

CALIFORNIA NEWS BRIEFS

Construction work on the California-Oregon Power Company's transmission line between Yreka and Fort Jones is expected to be completed by the first of next year, Orlo G. Steele, resident manager, has announced. The company is expending approximately $500,000 in rebuilding the line. A further extension is planned to run from Fort Jones to Etna but this is not expected to be undertaken until next summer.

Monterey Board of Supervisors ordered the county surveyor to purchase supplies for construction of a bridge across the Salinas River near San Lucas. The present structure is said to be unsafe and the board is reported to have taken this action because of the recent heavy rains. Reed & Corlett, Oakland architects, were granted a contract for architectural and engineering services for the drawing of plans for the new county detention home and county jail, which will be under construction early this year.

The Railroad Commission approved a contract between San Joaquin Light and Power Corporation and the United States Department of the Interior covering sale of surplus electric energy to the power company by the Yosemite Park power plant, and the sale by the company of electric energy to the Department of the Interior to supplement the production of the park power plant.

A steam shovel on the Carmel-San Simeon highway unearthed evidence between Villa and Alder creeks that many years ago an Indian village by the sea was obliterated by a landslide. The shovel brought to light skeletons, tomahawk heads, pieces of buckskin thongs, a stone mortar, arrow heads, pestles and other relics. Skeletons in prone position afforded proof that the village was buried by a landslide for it was the Indian custom to bury the dead in a sitting posture with knees drawn up under the chin. H. L. Leventon, in charge of construction, is sending a description of the articles to the department of ethnology, University of California.

A price of $126,000 has been placed on the Fresno Civic Auditorium by the city commission for sale to the state as an armory site. An appraisal of the building will be made, and if the building is found satisfactory its acquisition will be recommended to the 1931 legislature. In event of the sale of the old auditorium a new and larger building will be erected there by the city for civic activities.

Its momentum unchecked by the recent stock market crisis coupled with sharp declines in security values, California business today swung into the windup of an unprecedented prosperity year. November, even with its dark days of market upheaval, witnessed the filing of 532 applications for permits authorizing sale of securities within the state, an infallible barometer of California's financial stability. Unimpeded, this brisk impetus continues apace as December winds up the year's prosperity volume. These highlights of a survey of California business, prepared by Arthur H. Garland, state commissioner of corporations, and A. A. Rosenzweig, bank superintendent, cheered administration leaders when presented to Governor Young's council of department chiefs. "From our survey, it was revealed that California business, generally, is not discouraged by the stock market's collapse, and its financing programs, through public offerings of securities, evidence a hopeful sign of confidence," Commissioner Garland reported. A similar message of optimism was submitted to state leaders by Superintendent Rosenzweig. Another business barometer was contained in the report of E. Forrest Mitchell, insurance commissioner, announcing that sixty-two insurance companies have been admitted to the state since the first of the year, a record activity in this field.

Public education in California during the school year 1927-1928 totaled $160,576,206, of which $37,519,159 was invested in capital outlays including land, buildings and permanent equipment. Vierling Kersey, superintendent of public instruction, reported recently. He obtained his figures from compilations made by Walter E. Morgan, statistician for the State Department of Education. The total current cost of maintaining schools for the year was estimated at $123,057,047. The total expense for the current operation of schools represented an expenditure of somewhat less than $93 for each person enrolled in the public schools. The amounts invested during the year in capital outlays represented a per capita cost of $28 and the estimated value of all school properties represented a total investment of approximately $320 per capita enrolled during the school year.

A decrease in industrial deaths and in the number of workers permanently injured during the last fiscal year was reported to Governor C. C. Young by Will J. French of the state department of industrial relations. Fatalities last year totaled 625, French informed the governor, compared with 652 the previous year, 763 in 1926-27 and 710 for 1925-26. A reduction of 79 in permanent injuries was reported, the figure 1028 comparing with 1107 in 1927-28.

The State Board of Equalization reported Kern County railroads worth $1,980,999 for rate fixing purposes.

Frank Moyle and son, prospectors at Sonora recently struck a big pocket in an old mine inside the city and are digging out gold by the bushel.

Men who have visited the claim state the sight is exceptional and that thousands of dollars' worth of gold have already been taken out, with no end in sight.

School trustees and districts "can not be held liable for damages from injuries sustained on the school property unless negligence is shown," J. E. Partridge, county superintendent of schools, said at Oroville, in a letter to trustees in Butte County.

Fistic Disposition of Hack Wilson

ADULT habits are traced by the psycho-analysts to the experiences of childhood. Something that happened way back yonder in his youth affected his subconscious mind, they explain, and is responsible for the actions, good or bad, of the matured person. Perhaps it is possible in this way to account for the pugilistic tendencies of Mr. Lewis Robert Wilson, the slugging outfielder of the Chicago Cubs who was nicknamed Hack many years ago because of his physical resemblance to George Hackenschmidt, the heavyweight wrestler.

Hack Wilson.

Some time ago Wilson gained undue prominence by knocking out Pete Donohue, veteran pitcher of the Cincinnati Reds, with one punch while the athletes of the two National league teams were waiting for a train in a Cincinnati railway station.

By some "Hammering Hack" was held as an offender against the peace and dignity of the commonwealth. By others he was regarded as a righteous defender of the collective good name of the Cubs. By John Heydler, who investigated the case, he was absolved of rowdiness and roughness, writes Sam Greene in the Detroit News.

It may be that Wilson was guided by impulses implanted in his early youth through association with James F. Daugherty, the esteemed "Baron of Leopolville," and a man identified for many years with the profession of fist swinging.

While not generally known, it is a fact that Daugherty, the man who refereed the Dempsey-Gibbons fight in Shelby and the man who manages George Godfrey, the current "Black Menace" of the heavyweight division, is the baseball godfather of Lewis Robert Wilson.

According to Daugherty, Wilson always was a "handy guy with his fists."

"If he had taken up boxing, I think he would have been just as big a sensation as he is in baseball," opines the baron. "I have seen him with the gloves on in a gymnasium and he has a powerful wallop. I saw him once knock out a fellow who weighed 220 pounds when they were just practicing."

"After playing a while with Chester," Daugherty concludes, "Wilson moved to Martinsburg, W. Va., where he married and began his professional baseball experience. His father still lives in Leopolville."

Sport Notes

The St. Louis Cardinals have had 30 managers.

Boxers at amateur shows in England must be clothed above the waist.

The Davis Cup tennis finals will be held in the Autell stadium at Paris July 25, 26 and 27, 1930.

Washington, D. C., boasts 350 bowling alleys used exclusively for duck-pin or small ball tenpins.

Milwaukee has sold three south-paw pitchers—Moon, Woolfolk and Eddleman—to Little Rock.

To J. Francis Hogan goes the honor of being the first New York Giant to sign a contract for 1930.

An "educational" bloodless bullfight was staged recently in Norfolk, Neb. The arena, accommodating 16,000, drew only 1,000.

The Boston Braves are being re-modeled. Already Les Bell, Art Delaney and George Harper have been traded. Others will follow.

Baron Oppenheimer heads the list of winning turfmen in Germany with close to $500,000 in his credit, chiefly through the services of Olender.

Corporal Izzy Schwartz, veteran flyweight boxer, who recently retired from the ring, never was knocked out and was knocked down on but two occasions.

Lafayette and Lehigh began their football rivalry in 1884 and have met each other more often than any other pair, due to the fact that they staged two games every season until 1902.

Under the direction of Coach Carl Snavely, Bucknell's eleven has defeated Penn State three years in succession, the first of these marking the first victory over the Lions since 1897.

The skeleton of Sysonby, claimed by the late James Howe to have been the greatest horse ever trained, is now on exhibition in the American Museum of Natural History in New York city.

While a student at Andover Prep school, Eddie Mahan, famous Harvard football star, pitched a baseball game and between innings took part in 100 and 220-yard races, winning both in his baseball uniform.

The Cubs have ordered Kenneth Penner, right-handed pitcher, to report to Louisville of the American association, as part of the deal for Pitcher Malcolm Moss, who was sold to the Cubs recently.

Jack Walker, a member of the Seattle Hockey club, in the Pacific Coast league, has been playing hockey for 25 years. He started his ice career with the Fort Arthur team of the Thunder Bay Amateur league in 1905.

White Sox Star

Smead Jolley, for two successive seasons leading slugger in the Pacific Coast league, was sold recently by the San Francisco Seals to the Chicago White Sox. The famous outfielder of the Seals of 1928 is now wearing major uniforms. Earl Averill is with Cleveland, and Roy Johnson with Detroit. Jolley started in as a pitcher, but his slugging made him a valuable man in the outfield. His home is in Wesson, Ark.

All-Conference Star

Russell Bergherm, the all-conference fullback this year, who is forward on the basketball team this season, He is an outstanding star at Northwestern.

Grover Alexander Seems to Have Reached the End

Grover Cleveland Alexander seems to have reached the end of the road at last, but you never can tell. Once before when they thought he was through, he emerged long enough to give baseball one of the most dramatic scenes the game ever knew.

It will be a long time before the fans forget the picture of old Aleck slouching into the pitcher's box and striking out Tony Lazzari to save the world's championship for the Cardinals.

Aleck has been traded to Philadelphia with the understanding that if he falls there he will be taken back to St. Louis and given some sort of a job around the park. Sam Breadon of the Cardinals has promised to take care of Aleck as long as he needs help; and thereby Mr. Breadon has given one manager's answer to the old question as to whether there is any sentiment in baseball. It seems there is.

Boston Boy With Broken Back Plays Grid Game

How rough is this game of football! Don Ellis, a seventeen-year-old Hyannis boy, playing for Barnstable High, Boston, Mass., has played for two years with a broken back. Three seasons ago he had to quit after getting what he thought was a bad wrench in his back. But he took to the game the following season and played until he got another bad bump and was lugged off to the Cape Cod hospital. X-rays were taken and showed that he had a cracked vertebrae which necessitated him being strapped in a plaster cast. It was a similar accident that put Al Marsters of Dartmouth college out of the game.

Captain Glasgow Makes Most Inspiring Record

Gains in three years totaling more than three-quarters of a mile—1,424 yards, to be exact—for an average advance of four yards every time he took the ball under his arm. Willis Glasgow, Iowa's 1929 football captain, long will be remembered as one of the greatest backs in Hawkeye history.

The Hawk leader made his finest average of 4.2 yards this past season. In spite of being forced to wear a heavy mask over his face to protect a cracked cheekbone. Gains in 1928 totaled 546 yards for his highest season's total.

To Replace Hartnett

Operations and treatments have failed to improve the condition of Leo (Babby) Hartnett's ailing arm, and the Chicago Cubs are looking about for another catcher.

Hartnett has had two tonsil operations, and serums and light treatments have been used, but without results. Hartnett, however, has not yet given up hope and is continuing with powerful electric light treatments in an effort to bring his throwing arm back to life.

RULE IS FAVORED ON SUBSTITUTES

Football Coaches and Others Would Limit Changes.

Prominent football men, including several coaches, favor a new rule which would curb the wholesale use of substitutes during a game. It has become a practice that does not appeal to spectators who naturally are confused by the great number of changes made in the opposing lineups. Some of the smaller colleges which are limited to twenty-five players are opposed to the methods of bigger and stronger rivals. In at least one instance a leading coach has used as many as 45 men in four periods of gridiron activity.

Unless a player is seriously injured advocates of the proposed rule say he should be compelled to remain in his position from start to finish. In other days when halves of 45 minutes each were played, it was customary for varsity teams to go through a whole game without calling in substitutes. No player could be withdrawn for a rest and then return to his place on the team. Football then was far more strenuous than the present game which seems to be burdened with too many rules.

Pacific Coast Conference teams will engage in inter-sectional football games in 1930, it was disclosed after the schedule makers had partly completed plans for next year.

Stanford meets Minnesota at Minneapolis on October 11 and Dartmouth at Stanford on November 29. California is dicker for a game with either the Navy or Yale to be played at Berkeley. Southern California meets Notre Dame at Los Angeles on November 27. Oregon and Drake clash at Chicago on October 4, and Oregon State and West Virginia play at Chicago on November 27.

F. H. Palmer, Canadian trade commissioner for Scandinavia, won the amateur golf championship of Norway and his wife reached the finals in the Norway ladies' tournament.

Charles Paddock has been doing spirit stunts for so long that he has Old Pop Time worried. Believe it or not, the blond Texan, a transplanted Californian, hopes to make the 1932 Olympic team.

"I lost about eight yards on my last Olympic voyage, but maybe the old legs still will be good enough to land me a place on a relay team," said Charlie. "At least I do not intend to quit running altogether."

In the Big Ten each institution has a "B" team. The Indian "B" team won the conference championship.

Bowling is a great help to golf, according to Mrs. R. J. McCutcheon, most famous woman bowler. She cited the case of Miss Phyllis Buchanan of Colorado, who failed to make much progress at golf for a time due to weak wrists. She was asked to try bowling, hesitated, then accepted the invitation.

"Miss Buchanan, after a few months of bowling, returned to golf," explained Mrs. McCutcheon. "and later gained the runner-up position in the Women's Colorado golf championship. She attributed much of her success to bowling, which proved an excellent wrist strengthener."

Among the most successful gridiron coaches this past year who are representatives of the Notre Dame school of football are Jimmy Phelan of Purdue, Adam Walsh, line coach at Yale, and E. P. "Slip" Madigan of St. Mary's.

George Souders, youthful university undergraduate, who won the 1927 race classic at the Indianapolis Motor speedway, and who was tossed out of competition as a result of injuries sustained in Detroit the following year, is designing a car for the International contest to be held next May.

Souders, who is now abiding in Fort Worth, Texas, is combining his theoretical engineering training gained at Purdue university, Lafayette, Ind., where he was a student, with the practical knowledge of a successful career on the track.

Out of this combination, Souders expects to effect a real power plant which will not only be practical but conducive to the best results in speed competition.

Jack Sharkey, leading contender for the world's heavyweight boxing championship, has grossed $2,006,965 in gate receipts at his fights during the last three years and may surpass Jack Dempsey's mark before he is through.

New Yorkers have a chance this winter to see a sport innovation that should provide amusement that has not been equaled in these United States in many a day.

Female ice hockey—and professional at that—is the scheme that is now hatching in the purlieus of Madison Square Garden. This hazardous game is an outgrowth, of course, of the interest American women have manifested in ice racing in recent years, culminating in the formation of clubs in and around New York and other cities for the promotion of woman's ice races.

The present proposal is to form a four-team league in New York and see what happens.

"Sure, I'm a baseball catcher, but that doesn't mean I'd be a catcher in the ring," explained Gordon (Mickey) Cochrane, Philadelphia Athletic catcher, in defending his announced intention of having a whirl at boxing.

"If this fellow Shires, who doesn't know anything about boxing, can pick up a couple of thousand dollars and a rich vaudeville contract for fighting a couple of punks, there is no reason why I can't make myself a little extra money. I boxed as a middleweight at Boston university and I'm willing to spot Shires a dozen pounds and fight him," Cochrane said. "When we get in the ring I'll do the pitching and let him do the catching."

Dorothy's Mother Proves Claim

Children don't ordinarily take to medicines but here's one that all of them love. Perhaps it shouldn't be called a medicine at all. It's more like a rich, concentrated food. It's pure, wholesome, sweet to the taste and sweet in your child's little stomach. It builds up and strengthens weak, puny, underweight children, makes them eat heartily, brings the roses back to their cheeks, makes them playful, energetic, full of life. And no biliousness, headache, constipation, feverish, fretful baby or child ever failed to respond to the gentle influence of California Fig Syrup on their little bowels. It starts lazy bowels quick, cleans them out thoroughly, tones and strengthens them so they continue to act normally, of their own accord.

Millions of mothers know about California Fig Syrup from experience. A Western mother, Mrs. J. G. Moore, 119 Cliff Ave., San Antonio, Texas, says: "California Fig Syrup is certainly all that's claimed for it. I have proved that with my little Dorothy. She was a bottle baby and very delicate. Her bowels were weak. I started her on Fig Syrup when she was a few months old and it regulated her, quick. I have used it with her ever since for colds and every little set-back and her wonderful condition tells better than words how it helps."

Don't be imposed on. See that the Fig Syrup you buy bears the name, "California" so you'll get the genuine, famous for 50 years.

The Biggest Business In Town

What is the biggest business in town?

The big retail store or the large factory?

Yes, possibly. But from the angle of the business serving the most people and directly affecting the largest number in the town, the answer to the question is

C-I-T-Y G-O-V-E-R-N-M-E-N-T

Fully three-fourths of the most vital things in the life of any community depend more or less directly upon good government.

Whether a community is a good-place-in-which-to-live-and-do-business depends in a very large measure on how the local government is doing business.

A very wise man once said:

"For forms of government let fools contest
Whate'er is best administered is best."

And for efficient administration the city officials must not only be progressive, but they must have the support and cooperation of every citizen.

The phases of life which are in the charge of, or under the jurisdiction of city government, are naturally the most general, affecting practically everybody. They are everybody's business. And, sad to relate, too often what is everybody's business is often nobody's business.

The most efficient public officials of a community may be greatly handicapped in their work by a lack of intelligent support, and an understanding by the citizens of the work they are endeavoring to do.

Neglecting to support THE BIGGEST BUSINESS IN TOWN, city government, is one of the chief reasons why there are nine mediocre towns to every one outstanding town.

Folks, if the intelligent understanding and support of our town administration is one of the vital factors in making us the one outstanding town in ten, let's really get behind THE BIGGEST BUSINESS in

Redwood Council Y. M. I. Installs Tuesday Evening

The new officers of Redwood Council No. 66, Y. M. I. were installed with fitting ceremonies at the Carmel Men's Club on Brewster avenue Tuesday evening. The installing officer was the council deputy, Andrew Scorsur of San Jose.

The new president is Ernest Hecht, who succeeds John Ryan. Other officers installed were Peter Ryan, vice-president; Harry Morey, second vice-president; Alfred Larrouy, marshal; Charles Semeria, inside sentinel; Richard Roach, outside sentinel; Jerome MacDonald, recording secretary; Gerald Shields, financial secretary; Paul Hecht, treasurer; Al Bullivant, Edward Tuttle, Martin Flynn, executive committee.

WOODSIDE

There are several accurately kept rain-gauges in Woodside, the one at the Folger place is kept by O. E. Blackington, the one at the Josselyn place by J. H. Hallett and the one at the Jackling place by Thomas Stewart. The gauge at the Josselyn place showed 3.72 inches for the last storm, making over 8 1/2 inches for the season. That is nearly double the amount claimed for Redwood City but this is not to be wondered at as there is considerable variation even in this valley, the nearer the recording instrument is to the mountains, the greater the amount of rain fall. In addition to the rain, the snowfall in the hills was considerable. Black Mountain still wears its cap of white, and snow is still in evidence in sheltered places along the Skyline road.

Mrs. E. K. Hotelling, mother of George Hotelling and Mrs. A. B. Swinnerton of Woodside, passed away on January 3d. She was attending a New Year's Eve dinner party at the Roth place when taken sick.

Mrs. James V. Neuman tendered a surprise party to the members of the Woodside Girl Scouts on Wednesday afternoon. The occasion was the birthday anniversary of her two daughters, Marian and Barbara who are members of the organization and was as much of a surprise to them as to the other members of the Scouts. Refreshments were served in the P. T. A. hall and a gay time was had by the girls.

Miss Marjorie Josselyn who has been suffering for several weeks with a broken ankle, is sufficiently recovered to be about again.

Harold Colvin and family of San Bruno have taken the adobe house at the corner of Kings Mountain Road and the La Honda Road. This is the site of the historic structure built in 1840 by John Coppinger. He was one of the Woodside earliest residents, an Englishman by birth and of worthy ancestry. He had been a lieutenant in the British navy but had struck his superior officer during a quarrel and had been reduced to the ranks. So, watching his opportunity, he slipped over the side of the vessel when she anchored at Yerba Buena, as San Francisco was then called, and shortly thereafter joined William Smith and James Peace at their little settlement in what is now Woodside. This was in 1821 and here in 1827 he met his future wife, Maria Luisa Soto, whom he married ten years later. The bride and groom settled in 1837 in a little shake house which in 1840 gave way to the more elaborate adobe house at what we affectionately call the 'dobe corner, where the couple lived happily until the death of the husband.

FORMER SUPERVISOR DIES IN SAN FRANCISCO SUNDAY

J. Casey's Interesting Political Life Ends With Death

By W. J. Savage

On Sunday morning, January 5, 1980, the sad information was spoken from neighbor to neighbor in the whole north end of this county that James T. Casey had passed away, just after midnight at St.

Mary's Hospital, San Francisco. He had been well, quite himself, during the holiday period. On New Year's night he had argued with the writer to sit down and stay a little longer at his home, always a place of merriment. Then there was no thought of the great change, so near at hand.

On Friday evening at about six o'clock, he became very ill, complaining of a weakness of the heart. Mrs. Casey, his wife, called friends and together they concluded the condition of the sufferer was serious. A physician was summoned and he gave temporary relief. The distress returned, however, and during the night it became necessary to take him to the hospital, where everything to relieve the heart was done without avail until the end.

He was fully conscious during all the period of his suffering and in his usual way spoke to his friends and relatives endearingly. Occasionally he would say, "I shall go."

Thus the great life of James T. Casey came to an end as he would have wished, without a long spell of sickness and not deserted by his faithful associates. He was a native of Colma, his birthplace being close to the Skyline Boulevard at the east of the hills. His father and mother were among that band of bold pioneers who, as farmers settled San Mateo County. He learned in his childhood all the disappointments and hardships of tilling the soil and they were not a few. He also enjoyed the pleasures, like riding or driving a good horse.

He went to the county schools where it soon became evident that he was endowed with a superior intellect and he took the lead in his classes. Despite the primitive opportunity he became fairly informed

As soon as he was old enough the force of circumstances and his own inclination urged him to go to work, away from his home. His first employment was driving a milk-wagon for Hall's Dairy, where he met many other young men, all of whom remained his loyal supporters throughout his career. His seriousness, dignified bearing, assiduousness in the accomplishment of his objects gradually gave him an acknowledgment of leadership over his companions that attracted public attention. The politicians and others became glad to cultivate his friendship. Very soon he was in the game of local government himself. From the beginning to the end he was an unflinching Democrat, carrying its banner in victory and defeat.

In 1886 when he was little more than just old enough, he became a candidate for Supervisor of the First Township against the incumbent, A. F. Green, a Republican leader of the time. It was considered a hopeless fight for him at the beginning but before it ended he marshalled such a following that the opposition was compelled to use all the resources in order to beat him.

The years went by and he worked here and there, at all kinds of occupations, gaining much experience and little else. About the year 1898 he went into the laundry business and at once worked up a profitable trade. From the laundry business he stepped into the butcher shop at Colma in partnership at first with Benjamin F. Green. Promptly his shop became very popular, supplying nearly everyone with choice meats.

The old political longing was still in him. In 1902 he made the campaign for the legislature of the state, seeking the office of Assemblyman against Henry W. Brown. The prospects were all wrong for him; never-the-less he came very nearly winning, surprising everybody with the big support given him. Two years later he ran for supervisor of his township again and met with another defeat, this time by only eight votes. It was not necessary to say that the campaign was decidedly exciting.

During the campaign he became the sole owner of the butcher business and the "White House," a well known resort fell into his hands, as a political liability, so it seemed for a while.

In 1905 the building of the Ocean Shore Railroad created a local boom and Colma was its distributing point. Jim Casey's butcher shop and the "White House" and livery stable adjacent became locations of great activity. The proprietor met and conversed with the farmers, the engineers, the contractors, the real estate promoters, the bosses and straw-bosses, the skippers, the teamsters, and the prize-fight managers. Those were busy times for him and the profits were very encouraging, although he never took the time to count the day's receipts. Thus ended 1905 and began 1906 and upon the morning of the earthquake, April 18, 1906. That was a real upset but he did not hesitate. When the stream of refugees began to pour into Colma he forsook the need of meat and ordered from the Western Meat Co. all he could get. At a reasonable cash price he sold it for one day when the soldiers took command of it and gave it away. Even their action satisfied him although it meant loss to him.

After the excitement of the earthquake and fire were over, he was one of the first to begin restoring things and resuming business in the normal way. Now he was really a state character known to a great many people and it was his pride to remember every one of them.

He was ready for the campaign of 1908 for supervisor of the First Township. Everybody knew him favorably. The population had begun to change and increase greatly. New communities were coming into prominence. An active fight was made and his slogan was, "Good roads and lights." Of course he was elected and the rebuilding of his followers over his victory was something remarkable. It was actually a manifestation of genuine love.

As supervisor of the county, he served the people with never a thought of himself or his business. There was much to be done. He was the admitted leader. First the new county courthouse was completed, and next electric lights were introduced in Colma and what is now Daly City and the route of the State highway was brought this way without local taxation. He recognized that the day of the dirt road and the old horse was ended. He saw the conquest of gasoline and to provide for the rubber tires he dared to advocate and fight for a bond issue of $125,000 to build county roads of the modern type. There was opposition but it was overcome. The issue was carried and the county network of roads was built. This was the outstanding forward move made in our county and helped greatly to make the county what is, today.

When the million and a quarter were spent and the new roads were being enjoyed, the highest compliment that was paid to the Board of Supervisors was that the huge sum of money had been spent and the work was done without the suspicion of graft. To Mr. Casey that was real satisfaction. He was reelected for a second term and enjoyed the signal honor of being Supervisor throughout the World's Fair Period, doing good work for the county all the time. His home, at this time, was the meeting place of all the rich and the poor. He was considered of every one. Many an unfortunate blessed him for his generosity. Many another person said he was a prince because he refused to accept a reward for a favor.

He ran for a third term in 1916, but owing to political complications and antagonisms created by his natural assertiveness he was defeated by the present incumbent, Supervisor Thos. L. Hickey. Although defeated, he retained his public standing to the end.

Throughout his whole career there was never an issue before the people in which he did not take an active interest. He was always thinking in behalf of progress. His ambition was to make conditions better and in no small measure he was successful. Who will take his place now?

His last political campaign was in behalf of the Democratic party and Alfred E. Smith in this county. He carried the fight into almost every precinct and the results showed he still had wonderful power of organization.

Among his associates he was decidedly lovable. It was impossible to know him without feeling inclined to assist him in his efforts. His conversation was so sensible and cheerful that it was welcome always, sometimes so fascinating you could not get away.

During his younger days he enjoyed all social gatherings and attended many. Of late his greatest pleasure was at home with a few of his near and dear ones, but if he heard of any old friend's being sick he was sure to call, before it was too late. He felt it his duty to be present at the funeral of every person he had known intimately and he seldom was absent.

When a young man he married Margaret Sweeney, a native of Ohio, who survives him. They were favored with four children, one of whom died in childhood. Elise, the oldest, is now Mrs. J. Frank Barrett of San Mateo; Marie, the second, Mrs. R. D. Savage of Half Moon Bay; and J. L. Casey of Colma.

The funeral took place Tuesday from the Lasswell's Chapel, under the auspices of the Catholic Church of Colma.

Many sincere friends unite in offering their sympathy to the bereaved relatives.

Pony Is Nursemaid

London.—A pony kept by J. Butler, of Chippenham, acts as nursemaid to children, pushing them around in perambulators by taking the handle of the vehicle in its mouth and shoving.

The artificial silk known as rayon is based largely on sulphite pulp from spruce trees.

Golden-Haired Maid Runs "Cowboy School"

Denton, Texas.—Miss Blanche Williams is a college graduate, an artist, and, when she has time for such activities, a society girl. She is a graceful blonde of the type that looks well on the dance floor or in the drawing room. Certainly she doesn't look like a broncho buster. Yet a broncho buster she is, and she operates a "cowboy school."

In a cow lot of the Williams ranch, ten miles north of Denton, Texas, this golden-haired girl may be found almost any day putting "tenderfoot" pupils through the arduous paces of riding mustangs with spurs and "bull-dogging" steers. And that isn't all she teaches. Lariat throwing, calf riding (which corresponds to steer riding of adult cowpunchers) hog tying and all the other tricks are in the curriculum.

One of the most extraordinary features of this cowboy school is that the student can get his training for virtually nothing. Miss Williams teaches broncho busting and its allied arts for the joy of it. It's a hobby. The attractive teacher says she gets "a barrel of fun out of it."

When Miss Williams, as a child, developed what might be called a tomboy complex, her parents regarded it as perfectly natural. Instead of trying to curb it, her mother took it as a matter of course. Her father gave her the choice of his stables, and she and her pony became familiar figures on the streets of Denton. Her early life was a strangely mingled atmosphere of refinement and violence.

There are four of the Williams children—two boys and two girls. The father, a successful merchant and large land owner, gave them the best of educational advantages. The boys, upon completion of their schooling, took jobs in the store and are launched upon business careers. The girls, Blanche and her younger sister, Julia, made excellent records in college, specializing in art. Blanche also studied voice and made such progress that it was generally expected she would open a studio or go on the stage. But that she hasn't done yet. The lure of ranch life has been too strong. When she finished college she returned to the cowboy school she had started while a student in high school.

She was scarcely more than fifteen

WILL WORK HIS TEAM

After Notre Dame's football team completed its hard nine-game schedule last fall, Coach Knute Rockne sighed: "Never again."

But now he announces the longest and probably the hardest schedule ever tackled by any college team, for 1930.

Ten games with the most powerful teams of the North, South, West and East are on the 1930 schedule, half of which will be played at home and half on foreign fields.

when she began giving riding lessons. Her friends appealed to her to teach them now to be horsewomen. Thereupon was founded in the high-fenced corral of the Williams ranch the riding school.

Society folk who hoped that out of the girls' plan might evolve a select "riding academy" got a shock when the class met for the first time. The arena was the cow lot on the Williams ranch. There was no gallery to speak of, and those who came to watch the proceedings got no seats except those on top of the high board fence. Blanche opened festivities by mounting the wildest pony on the ranch and riding him through a spectacular series of lunges, leaps and sidesteps. It made a good show and filled the youngsters with envy and determination.

JIM DOLE AND PINEAPPLES

By THOMAS ARKLE CLARK
Dean of Men, University of Illinois.

It is the man with an idea and a vision and the persistence to make his dream a reality who has revolutionized science and business and education. Most of such men have been thought queer or crazy by the ordinary humdrum citizen who is contented with things as they are and is willing to trudge along the old way.

Pineapples and sugar are the two great industries of the Hawaiian Islands—sugar for some time and pineapple somewhat recently. I went over the pineapple plantations on Oahu in July—thousands of acres of them, the vigorous, healthy plants stretching in long light green rows for miles, not a weed to be seen anywhere. I went through the factory where the ripe pineapples are put through the various processes to prepare them for shipment to the retail trade. Tons of the ripe fruit come in every day; millions of cans of preserved pineapple go out to every state on the mainland and to every civilized country on the globe. I saw crates ready for shipment to South Africa, to England, to Germany, to Holland, and to cities ten thousand miles away.

These few paragraphs are not an advertisement of the pineapple industry, nor intended to broadcast the excellent qualities of Hawaiian pineapple; they are simply to emphasize

MENTIONED FOR HONOR

Hoffman Philip of Washington, D.C., former minister to Persia, is being mentioned as the next United States minister to Canada to succeed William Phillips who tendered his resignation to President Hoover.

what one man with a vision and persistence can accomplish, for the success of the pineapple industry in Hawaii is attributable, in large part, to one man.

Jim Dole was a young fellow of energy and intelligence. He graduated from Harvard university and came to Honolulu to make a place in the world for himself. He knew that pineapples flourished on the islands, and he was sure that there might be profit in their cultivation. He talked pineapples, thought pineapples, dreamed pineapples and what might be done with them. When a young woman at that time announced that she was going out in the evening with Jim Dole, her friends would say encouragingly:

"Well, you'll have a pleasant evening with the pineapples."

He had little money of his own, but what he had he was willing to risk on the venture which he had in mind. Finally he interested people who had money. The enterprise had hard sledding at first. Those who looked on said it was nonsense; Jim was sure to fail; people were fools to put their money into such a chimerical scheme. Jim stuck. His enterprise did not fail. He made a fortune out of pineapples; his plantation and his factory give profitable employment to thousands of people, and he has done a good service to the millions of people to whom his products go. People say now that he was lucky. Maybe. At any rate he demonstrated what faith in an idea and persistence in putting it across can accomplish.

For COLDS

We all catch colds and they can make us miserable; but yours needn't last long if you will do this: Take two or three tablets of Bayer Aspirin just as soon as possible after a cold starts. Stay in the house if you can—keep warm. Repeat with another tablet or two of Bayer Aspirin every three or four hours, if those symptoms of cold persist. Take a good laxative when you retire, and keep bowels open. If throat is sore, dissolve three tablets in a quarter-glassful of water and gargle. This soothes inflammation and reduces infection. There is nothing like Bayer Aspirin for a cold, or sore throat. And it relieves aches and pains almost instantly. The genuine tablets, marked Bayer, are absolutely harmless to the heart.

"Hello! Hello! How Much Does Happiness Cost?"

Only the price of learning a simple health rule, this smiling youngster finds!

"HAPPINESS just radiates from our baby since we began giving her—"

What was it that Mrs. Fred E. Schmitt of 2023 Stone Street, Falls City, Nebraska, discovered, which she could give to her baby that made her happy, well, strong and buoyant?

Not a medicine; not a drug of any kind; just harmless bodily lubrication. Only that, and nothing more. Mrs. Schmitt's discovery that little Barbara kept well when she was made regular as clock work is the same discovery as has been made by millions of other people, who are enjoying the happiness of health because they use Nujol.

Babies, old folks, people in the prime of life—all alike need to have the bodily poisons (we all have them) regularly cleaned out. Nujol just gently, naturally, normally lubricates the action of your body which needs lubrication as much as any other machine.

Please remember that Nujol contains no drugs; is non-fattening; is not absorbed in any way by the body; can form no habit; cannot hurt you, no matter how much you take. All it can do is keep you internally clean, and make you continually feel better. Colorless, tasteless as pure water, Nujol will make you see the bright side of life; it will help you to get the most out of your life; it will make you wake up in the morning feeling fit, and help you to do a good day's work with a smile.

"Happiness is on the other end of your phone too," says little Barbara

Millions of people have discovered this fact—why don't you? You can buy Nujol in sealed packages at all drug stores. It costs but a few cents, and makes you feel like a million dollars. Get a bottle today and see how brimming zestful health will boost your day's happiness.

Few French Murderers Go to Guillotine

Paris.—The guillotine is becoming a relic of the past as murderers are granted more leniency in France today than ever before in history.

Within four days, three self-confessed parricides and one sweetheart killer were acquitted. The executioner has not been called upon to work in Paris for nearly three years while in the provinces the guillotine has not fallen in months and only a few times in the last several years.

Sentences of death imposed on five women during the year for the most horrible murders, including the poisoning of babies and husbands, were commuted to life imprisonment by the president of the republic. Ten assassins have just been excused from going to Devil's Island because of delicate health.

Mme. Jane Weiller, who shot and killed her husband after an all night party in the cabarets of Montmartre and Montparnasse, was recently sentenced to five years' imprisonment; but some legal experts declared she would have been acquitted had she followed a different sort of defense. She claimed that she shot to save herself and child. They said it would have been better had she merely argued, "I loved him; that's why I killed him."

French juries are often sentimental. Although they see little sentiment in trying to save one's own life, they are apt to be moved to tearful generosity if a murderer swears he killed in the name of love because of passion.

The Assize court of the Var acquitted young Richard Corbett when he declared he loved his mother so that he could not bear to see her suffering from cancer. He shot a bullet in her temple. The jury understood and freed him of all blame.

Believe Real El Greco

San Francisco.—What is believed to be an authentic El Greco painting, valued at between $50,000 and $75,000, has been discovered here.

The discovery was made by George Barron, curator of the Golden Gate Park museum, when the painting was brought to him by Clark Johnson, who had purchased it at a second-hand store for $7.50.

On first appearance the painting appeared to be a poor attempt at depicting a Persian rajah. Barron put the painting through a process that removes one coat of paint without harming an older one underneath.

When the process was completed the Persian rajah had disappeared and instead was a painting of St. Francis of Assisi in an attitude of prayer. Prof. Lorenzo Chavallat, art critic for the Vatican, here to paint California missions, inspected the painting and said he was convinced of its authenticity.

The dome of St. Paul's cathedral, the masterpiece of Christopher Wren, will be reinforced by a gigantic steel chain weighing 60 tons—and requiring six months to manufacture.

Wants to Go to Jail; Judge Turns Him Free

Buffalo.—A "tough break" is the way Roger McGuire, seventy-eight, no home, described it. Brought into court as a vagrant, McGuire pleaded to be sent away for 30 days as a birthday present, having advised the court he had just attained that ripe age.

City Judge Weiss pondered, reflected and gazed out of the window.

"I am very sorry," he said after much deliberation, "the penitentiary is too crowded now. I cannot grant your request." McGuire was given a hot meal and then told to be "on his way."

Mark Twain Cabin Placed in Park

Menlo Park

Frank R. Cain, Well Known Menlo Resident, Passes On

Frank R. Cain, the attorney, passed away at his home near Santa Cruz avenue early yesterday morning from a complication of diseases. He had been ill for the past month. The deceased was born on a farm at Debuque, Iowa. As a lad of sixteen he started out to make his career.

He arrived in Chicago and at once began the study of law, and the Chicago Tribune. Also he was the legal adviser of the Orpheum Circuit. Later in life he specialized in income tax law. For many years he was the attorney for the Chicago Inter-Ocean and the Chicago Tribune.

Five years ago with his wife, who survives him, he came to Menlo Park to retire and to enjoy the fruit of his labor in his chosen occupation. The lure of the law which gripped him for so many years would not let him go so he opened a law office here that he might keep in the harness and in touch with business. By his kindness, gentleness and honesty and integrity he made numerous friends in the community who were shocked to learn of his demise. His widow, Mrs. Alma Cain, has the sympathy of the entire community in her bereavement. The funeral will take place this morning from the Cain home at 10 o'clock. Interment will be in Cypress Lawn cemetery.

Alumni Hold Annual Meeting
St. Joseph Alumni Association held its annual meeting and reunion last Sunday afternoon at the auditorium of the school building on Valparaiso avenue. These reunions are enjoyable affairs. It is always a day of happiness and joy for Mother Foley, a principal of the parochial school. She loves to mingle among and grasp the hands of her former pupils for whom she has a strong affection, and an intense interest. Seventy-five members of the alumni were present. A splendid entertainment was presented after which the officers for the ensuing year were chosen. They were: Harold O'Keefe, president; Mary Carleton, vice-president; Alma Bracco, secretary; Kip Morey, treasurer; and Thomas Kearney, sergeant-at-arms. Refreshments, furnished by the alumni, were served late in the afternoon. Many former students of the well-known institution from out of town attended the function.

Sister Invested with Black Veil
Sister Margaret Maria, of the Heart of Jesus, recently from Mexico, made her profession in the chapel of Corpus Christi Monastery last Sunday and was invested with the black veil. The ceremony began by solemn vespers. Dominican fathers having come from Benicia. One of them delivered a sermon on the character of St. Dominic and the choice made by one about to make profession in the Community of Dominican Nuns of Corpus Christi Monastery. The ceremony closed with Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament. A large number of people witnessed the impressive ceremony.
